General Definitions and Age Restrictions

+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713Before booking any flight, it is essential to look closely at how the airline defines an infant passenger.+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 Under the rules established by Air France, a traveler is officially considered an infant if they +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713are under two years of age for the entire duration of the journey. If your child happens to celebrate+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 their second birthday during the+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 trip, they will be classified as a child for the remaining +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713segments of the flight, meaning a separate seat and a child fare will apply for those portions.

Medical regulations+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 and safety considerations are paramount +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713when flying with very young infants. Air France strongly advises against air travel +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713for newborn babies who are less than seven days old. This guideline exists to protect the fragile+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 health of infants, as changing cabin pressures and closed environments can pose risks to a +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713newborn whose respiratory system and ears are still adapting to life outside the womb. If travel +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713is absolutely necessary for an infant under a week old, parents are typically required to obtain official+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 medical clearance before the airline allows them to board the aircraft.

Furthermore, safety+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 protocols dictate that each infant +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713must be accompanied by an able-bodied adult passenger +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713who is at least eighteen years old, except in cases where the adult companion is the legal parent. +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713To ensure adequate supervision during flights, a single adult passenger is permitted to +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713accompany only one infant traveling on +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713their lap. If you are a single parent or guardian traveling +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713with two infants under the age of two, you will be required to purchase a separate child ticket for+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 the second infant so they can sit securely in an +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713approved car seat.

Ticket Options and Fare Structure

When booking travel +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713with an infant on Air France, parents are given two primary choices regarding seating and fares. The first and most common option is to have the+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 infant travel as a lap child. When choosing this setup, the infant does not +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713occupy an individual+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 seat but instead remains securely+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 on the lap of the accompanying adult for the entire duration of the flight. For lap infants, Air France offers a significantly reduced rate, which is generally calculated +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713as ten percent of the accompanying adult fare, plus any applicable+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 airport taxes and government fees. This makes it an incredibly cost-effective choice for families looking to manage their budget +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713while traveling with +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713very young children. On domestic flights within France, such as routes between Paris and Corsica, lap infants can +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713often travel completely free of charge.

The second option available to families is purchasing an individual seat for the +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713infant. This choice is highly recommended for parents+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 embarking on +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713long-haul flights who prefer additional comfort, space, and a higher level of security. When you buy a separate seat for+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 a baby under two years old, the ticket price is typically +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713calculated under the standard child fare,+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 which is equivalent to the rate applied for children+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 between two and twelve years of age. This fare+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 often includes a specific discount off the full adult ticket price, though the exact reduction +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713depends +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713entirely on the destination, route, and fare class selected+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713. It is important to note that certain promotional fares +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713may not offer this child discount, meaning the +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713separate seat would be charged at the full adult rate.

If you choose to purchase an individual seat for your +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713infant, you must bring an approved child restraint system, +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713such as a certified aviation-compatible car seat, to secure your baby safely during takeoff, turbulence,+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 and landing. Our travel specialists can provide more clarity on how these fare structures interact with different cabin classes when you +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713connect with us at +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 for personalized booking support.

Checked and Carry-On Baggage Allowances

Traveling with a baby means packing a vast array of essentials+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713, including diapers, changes of clothing, specialized+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 food, blankets, and toys. Fortunately, Air France recognizes these needs and provides a generous baggage +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713policy specifically tailored+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 for families traveling with infants. For an infant traveling+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 on an adult lap under+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 the reduced ten percent fare, the airline grants a complimentary checked baggage allowance of up to ten +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713kilograms. This dedicated weight +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713allowance is entirely +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713separate from the adult checked baggage quota, ensuring that you do not have to sacrifice your own packing space to accommodate+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 your baby +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713necessities.

In addition to this checked baggage allowance, parents+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 are allowed to bring essential baby +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713care items into the cabin. While the main cabin baggage allowance is determined by the adult class of service, parents+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 can bring an infant care bag weighing up to twelve kilograms, with dimensions not exceeding fifty-five centimeters by thirty+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713-five centimeters by twenty-five centimeters. This ensures you have immediate access to everything required to keep your child comfortable and +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713fed during the journey. If you have purchased a separate seat for your infant at the child rate, the baby receives the full baggage allowance+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 associated with that specific ticket class, matching the+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 standard baggage weight and piece limits given to adult passengers.

Stroller and Car Seat Policies

Navigating large international airport terminals with an infant can be physically demanding, which is why having+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 a reliable stroller is incredibly beneficial. Air France allows families to transport a stroller or pram completely +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713free of charge, regardless of whether the infant is traveling on a lap or in an allocated seat. Parents are generally permitted to use their+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 stroller throughout the airport terminal right up until the moment they reach the aircraft boarding +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713gate. At the gate, the airline ground crew will take the +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713stroller, place it securely in the aircraft hold, and return it to you either at the aircraft door upon arrival+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 or at the baggage claim carousel, depending+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 on specific airport regulations.

For parents who prefer to keep their stroller inside the +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713cabin, Air France does allow compact strollers to be brought on board as carry-on baggage under+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 strict dimensional conditions. To be accepted inside the+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 cabin overhead compartments, the folded stroller must not exceed the maximum dimensions+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 of fifteen centimeters by thirty centimeters+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 by+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 one hundred centimeters. Models like the Stokke Yoyo or similar fully collapsible strollers are ideal. Acceptance of these strollers inside the+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 cabin is strictly subject to available space in the overhead bins at the time of boarding and +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713requires a carrying case that covers the stroller completely. If the flight is fully booked and overhead +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713space is limited, the gate staff will +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713safely check the stroller into the aircraft hold at no additional+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 expense.

Onboard Bassinet Availability

For parents traveling +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713on long-haul international routes, securing an onboard +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713bassinet can drastically improve the comfort of the journey. Air France provides complimentary baby bassinets, often referred to as skycots, on +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713select aircraft+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 models equipped to support them across Economy, Premium, and Business cabins. To qualify for a free onboard bassinet, the+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 infant must weigh less than ten kilograms and measure less than seventy centimeters. +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713Because the number of bassinet-compatible seats on each aircraft is strictly limited based on +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713the plane bulkhead configurations, these items are+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 distributed on a first-come, first-served basis and cannot+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 be requested online. When searching for seats during the reservation process, parents should+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 note that designated rows are marked specifically for +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713bassinet use, and standard extra-legroom seats like Seat Plus cannot be paired with bassinets+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 for safety reasons. It is mandatory to contact+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 the airline directly to validate the request.

Because managing+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 these special seat +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713assignments can sometimes be technically +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713complex on web portals, reaching out to an experienced +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713agent is a wise step. You can contact our team at +1.855.822.5178 or

Priority Boarding and Onboard Comfort Tips

The airline strives to make the airport +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713experience as seamless as possible for young families by offering priority boarding privileges. When traveling+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 with an infant, you are invited to board the aircraft +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713ahead of the standard economy passengers.+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 This extra time allows you+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 to settle into your seats, +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713organize your carry-on bags, +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713stow your stroller, and ensure that your baby is comfortable before the cabin becomes crowded. Do not hesitate to notify the gate agents at +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713the airport that you are+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 traveling with an infant so they can direct you to the priority boarding lane.

Once +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713inside the cabin, managing cabin pressure changes +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713during takeoff and landing is vital for your baby comfort. The changing air pressure can cause painful pressure build-up in an infant +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713sensitive eardrums.+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 To mitigate this discomfort, it is highly recommended to breastfeed, bottle-feed, or offer a pacifier to your baby during the initial+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 ascent and final descent. The natural swallowing motion+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 helps equalize the pressure in their ears, preventing crying and distress. Additionally, cabin+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 temperatures can fluctuate significantly during a flight, +1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713so dressing your baby in comfortable, easily removable layers will ensure they stay warm+1.855.822.5178 or +44.800.058.8713 during the cruise and cool while on the tarmac.
